

Module 1 - System Selection

Brady Chin

Colorado State University Global

CSC501-1: Management for the Computer Science Professional

Dr. Jonathan Vanover

July 21st, 2024

The system that I have selected is Design and Implementation of a Project Management API using Python and Blockchain Technology. This was selected from one of the provided topics from milestone 1.

I chose this topic because I am looking for a software engineering job that uses Python as the primary coding language. In addition, I would like to better understand blockchain technology. I think this topic would be beneficial to me since it is similar to my interests so that when I do get a software job, I will be able to understand how the design and implementation process.